

Element 1 should not be eliminated from the rules for the Amateur Radio Service. Radiotelegraphy has been, and still is a valuable mode for emergency communications. The present 5 wpm proficiency standard can be attained by anyone who is truly interested in seeking an amateur radio license.